

The role of natural attractions of Samtskhe-Javakheti region in tourism development

Mariana Alavidze

E-mail: mariana.alavidze908@ens.tsu.edu.ge

Department of Geography, Faculty of Exact and Natural Sciences, Iv. Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University #1, Chavchavadze Avenue, Tbilisi 0179, Georgia

The Following Master's Thesis refers to the promotion of the natural sightseeing existed in the Samtskhe-Javakheti region and its popularization. It should be marked, that its great part only been known to the narrow circle of scientists.

Today, with the historical, architectural and archaeological monuments in the routes should be considered natural wonders, which are much attractive for the traveling in our country.

The work gives the characterization all of those remarkable natural objects existed on the territories of the Samtskhe-Javakheti municipality, which was hitherto little known and, as I mentioned above, only a certain group of specialists knew that.

Hence to the aim of the research:

- there was made grouping of the known and the unknown natural sightseeings according to the certain components on the territory of Samtskhe-Javakheti;
- there was created general map of Samtskhe-Javakheti in which all the natural sightseeings is given to the work;
- there was created large scale maps with tourist routes separately for each municipality.